Seeking More Congenial Climes. AN EXODUS OF ITALIAN AND OTHER FOREIGN LABORERS FROM PENNSYLVANIA.

READING, PA., Nov. 28.-Three hundred Italian laborers passed through here this morning for Charleston, S. C. They are beliebed to be the first foreign laborers sent south from eastern Pennsylvania, and hundreds are preparing to follow them to variousn souther states. suit them better than that of the north. The indications are that a great exodus of Italians, Poles and Hungarians will take place from eastern Pennsylvania this winter, and that most of them will go south. Shocking Depravity.

LAWYER ARRESTED FOR A HORRIBLE CRIME. MINNEAPOLIS, MINN., Nov. 28.-Last Tues day E. J. Teipener, a lawyer, formerly a justice of the peace in Wisconsin, was arrested on a charge of outraging a sixteen-year-old Swede girl, Julia Paterson, employed in his family as a domestic. The girl alleges that she was as-saulted five times in succession in the presence of Teipener's wife who witnessed the act and made no effort to help her. The girl was taken to Bethany Home, where she lies in a critical condition. Wednesday he was arraigned at the municipal court and the case adjourned until next Wednesday. His wife corroborates the girl's story and says she did not oblight because girl's story and says she did not object, because she was enciente. Teipener was lodged in the county jall. This morning at one o'clock about 250 angry Swedes gathered at the doors of the building for the purpose of lynching Teipener. The police were called out in force and the mob quelled. Everything is quiet at 3 this morning and no serious result is apprehended.

PORT JEFFERSON, N. Y., Nov. 28.—The body of Warren S. Yates, son of President Yates of the Nebraska National bank, Omaha, and a member of the junior class at Yale college, who was blown out into the sound in an open boat while duck shooting off Stony creek on Thanksgiving day, was recovered this morning on the beach at Baiting Hollow. Notwithstanding the flerce gale which was blowing his boat did not capsize. His dead body, gun and one oar were found in the boat when it came ashore on the Long Island beach. It is supposed he died from fright and exposure.

Disorderly Strikers Disperse. THE AUTHORITIES QUELLING THE DISTUBANCES IN THE FOURTH POOL.

PITTSBURG, Nov. 28.—The situation in the Monongahela valley is as follows: Last night the sheriffs of Washington and Fayette counties massed their forces at the fourth pool and had guards at each mine. They notified the strikers that any attempt at violence would be proinptly and vigorously met. The strikers were alarmed, and during the early morning hours struck out over the hills for home. Recruiting parties were then notified to proceed no farther in their work. Or scenes which he contributed recently to the Dublin Freeman's Journal.

Sidney Grundy is writing a classical tragedy in five acts in blank verse. The scene is laid in Athens in the time of Pericles. It is for Wilson Barrett. There is one scene only in each act, without earthquake; or catastrophes. The interest is to center upon passion and emotion. It is not a mere spectacle.

The new drama which Barrett and Henry Jones are writing together will precede this play.

Wednesday afternoon he found his wife on the sota and Horton spoke to him and sald he had come to see about the uniform. Witness inquired of his wife what was the matter, and she replied, "Nothing; let him go." Witness and he said he bad not. Witness told him that he would kill him on the spot if he thought he did. Horton answered, "Then kill me," and left. Witness said his wife then told him what had occurred, and he started after him. Witness became excited and exclaimed: "God knows what would have resulted had I caught knows what would have resulted bad I caught AN EXCITING SCENE IN COURT.

"Did you suggest any location for the building?"

"I did not make any recommendation as to location," answered Mr. Conger. "Even when asked by a committee of Congress I declined to make any recommendation, for the reason that the Postmaster General had made his recommendation and it would have been very improper for me, a subordinate, to criticise or oppose his recommendation. I do not hesitate to say that I am opposed to locating the post to say that I am opposed to locating t office in any of the reservations proposed. The triangular reservations fronting the avenue at 7th street and at 14th street are entirely too small for a suitable building. Why, there would barely be room enough on the ground floor for one division." "How about the ground in front of the Center market?"

"That would do. It is the only place that would do, if the building is to be placed on the south side of the Avenue. Members of the joint commit-tee on public buildings and grounds also looked over and considered several of the squares now occupied by private buildings, in the center of the city, as well as that west of the Post Office department building, which met the approval of the Senate. It has been suggested also that the present Post Office department building be enlarged, by adding two stories to its height, and that the main floor be given to the city post office. The plans proposed for extending the department building to 9th street contemplate closing in 8th street entirely. The extension would be made so as to harmonize architecturally with the present building. There are some problems presented in the construction of the proposed extension which are said to operate against the plan. The ground at the southwest corner of the extension would be the southwest corner of the extension would be fourteen feet lower than at the southeast cor-ner of the present building. The main floor, which is seven feet from the ground at the cor-ner of 7th and E streets, would be twenty-one feet from the ground at the corner of 9th and E streets if extended through the proposed addition on the present level. are spacious, well-lighted rooms, arranged so as to be easy of access to the public, and, at the same time so as to contribute to the rapid handling and dispatch of malls. Post office buildings, like other public buildings, have been erected under the supervision of the Treasury department, and, as post office authorities say, without consultation with the Post office department. Generally the post office occupies the same building with the custom honse, the United States courts and other public offices. The buildings designed at the Treasury department, it is claimed, do not answer the needs of a post office. The law requires that the designs for public buildings shall be approved by the Secretary of the Treasury, the Secretary of the Interior and the Postmaster General. The signatures of the two latter officials have generally been affixed to such designs as a matter of form. Postmaster General Vilas has, however, made a departure from the old plan, and makes as to be easy of access to the public, and, at
